

Ways You and I Can eliminate racism around the world

By: Mauraide Boyce

There are many ways to eliminate racism in the world. For a fact racism is wrong and now I will share some ways to get rid of racism in the world. The first way you and I can help eliminate racism is to make an effort to get to know somebody that is different from you. Next you and I can support anti-prejudice and anti-racist organizations. Last you and I can eliminate racism in the world is to think before you speak.

The first way you and I can help eliminate racism in the world is by making an effort to get to know someone that is different from you. For example you might be African American and there may be a lot of Asians. It might be scary because you know nothing about them or where they are coming from. That's why if you take the time to make an effort to get to know them they would feel better and you would feel better because now you know somebody that is different from you. Making the effort to get to know somebody that is different from you can change the world in one way (eliminating racism).

The second way you can get rid of racism is to support anti-prejudice and anti-racist organizations. Well let me explain! Have you ever heard of a saying be a leader not a follower? That is saying just because you may see some of your friends or a gang being racist does not mean you should support that you should be the bigger and better person and not join in on the wrong design. You and I know we would not like it if a gang of another race came up to you and started to talk trash. So you should not do it to other people. Be a role model. Supporting anti-prejudice and anti-racist organizations can eliminate racism around the world.

The last way you and I can eliminate racism around the world is to think before you speak. There are some people in the world that don't really care about what you say. Then there are people that may use what you say against you. For example you could go up to someone and say a racist comment, and they don't like it they could fight you kill you or even call the cops. You should always think before you speak. You and I both know that you probably don't want to die or end up in jail or end up in the hospital because of something stupid you said. I will always say "Think before you speak."

If you make an effort of these three things we can make the world a better place.
